3. Rejoinder filed by the Appellant

IN REPLY TO PARA NO 1: The Respondents no 2 and 3 informed to this Hon'ble authority that they have given the notice no 288 dated 1.5.2019 to the appellant with a request to pay the demand amount Rs 4,51,83,730 on or before 31.5.2019 where as in the noticed informed to pay the mount wit in thirty days from date if notice i.e; 31.5.2019. The respondent no 2 and 3 circulated the notice dated 1.5.2019 to the applemnt on 18.5.2019 hence, the said amount was due on 18.6.2019 as per clause 6(3) of regulation 6 of 2004 s=dated 17.5.2004. Accordingly the issue of such notice and admission of the respondents no 2 and 3 is a violation of clause 6(3) of regulation 6 of 2004.

IN REPLY TO PARA NO 2: The respondents no 2 and 3 categorically admitted that they have levied the surcharge from 1.6.2091 to 31.10.2019 and claimed in july to november,2019 bills. Whereas the amount was due on 18.6.2019 as per clause 6(3) of regulation 6 of 2004 hence, their claim is wrong, illegal and liable to be set aside. How ever, it is pertinent to note that in para no 5 the respondents no 2 and 3 has given the calculation of surcharge of Rs.6,77,756/- claimed in july 2109 bill which was calculated on Rs 4,51,83,730/ from 1.5.2019 to 31.5.2019. In view of this it is evident that the respondent no 2 and 3 are misleading and confusing to this hon'ble authority deliberately. Accordingly the claim of Rs 6,77,756/- wrong illegal and is liable to be set aside.

IN REPLY TO PARA NO 3& 4: The para no . 3 and 4 reproduction of the relevant clause of regulation 6 of 2004 hence, no reply.

IN REPLY TO PARA NO 5: The respondent no 2 and 3 informed the calculation of surcharge of Rs 6,77,756/- for the period from 1.5.209 to 31.5.2019 claimed in july 2019 bill. Whereas the ACD amount of Rs 4,51,83,730/- was due on 18.6.2019 considering the date of receipt of the notice on 18.5.2019. Hece , the claim of Rs 6,77,756/- for the period from 1.5.2019 to 31.5.2019 is in violation of clause 6(3) of regulation 6 of 2004, illegal and liable to be set aside.

IN REPLY TO PARA NO 6: The respondents no2 and 3 informed the calculation of surcharge of rs 5,64,797/- on Rs 3,76,53,108/ for the period from 1.6.2019 to 30.6.2019 claimed in august, 2019 bill whereas the due date for patent was 18.6.2019 considering the date of receipt of notice on 18.5.2019. Hence the claim of surcharge from 1.6.2019 to 30.6.2019 is in violation of clause 6(3) of regulation 6 of 2004 ,illegal and liable to be set aside.

IN REPLY TO PARA NO 7,8 and 9: The respondents no 2 and 3 informed that they claimed surcharge of Rs 3,38,878/- in september. 2019 bill pertaining to the period from 1.7.2019 to 31.7.2019. Further informed that Rs 3,38,878/- claimed in october, 2019 bill pertaining to the period form 1.8.2019 to 31.8.2019.Also informed that Rs 2,25,919/- claimed in november 2019 bill pertaining to the period from 1.9.2019 to 30.9.2019. It is pertinent to note that the calculation is made on 30 days of the month without considering the dte of payments of instamment, without considering the actual amount due and actual number of days delay which is a violation of clause 6 (4) of Regulation 6 of 2004 hence the aid claims are wrong,illegal and liable to be set aside.

The surcharge payable for actual number of days number delayed on actual amount due are furnished at page no 21 of main appeal as per which the actual surcharge payable is Rs 15,04,061/- for the period from 18.6.2019 to 1.11.2019 whereas the respondents claimed Rs 21, 46,228/- for the period from 1.5.2019 to 30.9.2019 as informed in their calcu;ations and in their admission in para no 1 they informed the period from1.6.2019 to 31.10.2019, without considering the actual no of days delayed and without considering the actual amount due which is wrong illegal in violation of clause 6(4) of regulation 6 of 2004. Hence the excess claim of Rs 6,42,176/- is wrong, illegal and liable to be set aside.

Heard both sides.

Issues

4. In the face of the averments by both sides, the following issues are framed:-

1. Whether the Appellant is entitled to set aside the claim of Rs 6,42,167/- claimed from July'2019 to November'2019 towards ACD surcharge by the Respondents?
2. To what relief.

Issue No.1

5. The Appellant M/s Suguna Metals Limited bearing HT SC No VKB-1247, CMD of 30999 KVA, filed this appeal towards withdrawal of ACD surcharge of Rs 6,42,167/- alleged to be excess claimed by the respondents for the period from July 2019 to November 2019. The admitted facts are that the SE/OP/Vikarabad Circle vide Lr.No SE/OP/SAO/AAO/JAO/HT/ACD/D.No 288 Dt.01.05.2019, issued demand notice for making payment of Additional Consumption Deposit (ACD) of Rs 4,51,83,730/- based on the Clause 6 of Regulation no 6 of 2004. The dispute raised by the appellant is that the demanded amount was excess claimed to an extent of Rs 6,42,167/-. That the due date for payment of ACD was in view of the date of receipt of demand notice was 17.05.2019 from 18.06.2019. The Respondents have claimed the surcharge of Rs 6,77,756/- for 30 days instead of 13 days of June 2019. On the other hand the respondent submitted that the demand notice towards ACD dated 01.05.2019, was issued to the appellant with request to pay the ACD charges of Rs 4,51,83,730/- on or before 31.05.2019. Subsequently based on the request made by the appellant for payment of the demanded ACD amount in installments (12), the CGM commercial vide Lr.No CGM(comm)/SE(C)/DE(C)/ADE-III/D.No 814 /19-20 Dated 01.06.2019, accorded approval for 6 instalments@ Rs 75,30,621/- per month, from 01.6.2019 to 31.10.2019, along with surcharge payable on the balance amount @ 18% p.a as per sub clause 3(b) of Regulation 6 of 2004. The calculation of monthly surcharge on the belated payment of ACD submitted by the Respondents is following:

ACD SURCHARGE CALCULATION OF VKB 1247 M/s Suguna Metals Limited		Surcharge Levied Bill Month	DPS Levied in Bill
Due Date As Per Installments	Amounts
01-06-2019	4,51,83,730
30-06-2019	4,51,83,730	26/07/2019	677756
31-07-2019	3,76,53,108	26/08/2019	564797

31-10-2019	1,50,61,242	26/11/2019	225919
30-11-2019	45,30,622	26/12/2019	112959
		TOTAL	2259186

The Appellant held that the total ACD surcharge should have been Rs 15,04,061/-, but the Respondents claimed Rs 21,46,228/-, Rs 6,42,167/- excess amount with 138 No. of days delayed from 18.06.2019 to 01.11.2019. That as per the notice the amount is liable to be paid within 30 days from the date of receipt of notice i.e. 18.05.2019 and the due date will fall on 18.06.2019. Whereas the demand notice towards ACD charges dt.01.05.2019 proclaims payment of ACD charges on or before 31.05.2019, on the other hand the clause 6(3)(a) envisages the consumers to pay the ACD within 30 days from the date of receipt of the demand notice, thereby the Appellant claims to restrict the number of days of delay to 13 days from 18.06.2019 to 30.06.2019 instead of 30 days levied by the Respondents.

The following is the calculation sheet submitted by the Appellant towards ACD surcharge and evaluated an amount of Rs 6,42,167/- was excess claimed :-

In the rejoinder the Appellant pointed out that Rs 6,77,756/- was claimed in July'2019 against the ACD due amount of Rs 4,51,83,730/-. An amount of surcharge of Rs 5,64,797/- against ACD amount of Rs 3,76,53,108/- was claimed in August'2019 and same amount of Rs 3,38,878/- ACD surcharge was claimed in September and October bill, there is no change in the ACD surcharge amount for the two months. It is stated that the calculation is made on 30 days of the month without considering the date of payment of installments, without considering the actual amount due and actual number of days delayed in violation of Clause 6(4) of Regulation 6 of 2004. It is reiterated that the actual surcharge payable is Rs 15,04,061/- for the period from 18.06.2019 to 1.11.2019, whereas the Respondents claimed Rs 21,46,228/- for the period from 01.05.2019 to 30.09.2019.

6. In response to the Appellants rejoinder, the Respondent No.2, SAO/OP/Vikarabad submitted his rejoinder in correction to initial given written submissions on which the Appellant had no objection, vide Lr.No.SE/OP/VKB/SAO/JAO/HT/D.No.262/20, Dt: 09.06.2020, stating that there was a typographical error in periods of calculating interest which is preponed one month and to be corrected as given below:-

ACD surcharge calculation for the month of June 19 is given below.

Rs 4,51,83,730X18%/100X1/12=Rs.6,77,756/- surcharge was levied in the month of July -19 bill. Towards ACD surcharge was levied for the period from 01.06.2019 to 30.06.2019.

ACD surcharge calculation for the month of July 19 is given below.

Rs 3,76,53,108X18%/100X1/12=Rs 5,64,797/- surcharge was levied in the month of August-19 bill. Towards ACD surcharge was levied for the period from 01.07.2019 to 31.07.2019.

ACD surcharge calculation for the month of August 19 is given below.

Rs 3,01,22,486X18%/100X1/12= Rs.4,51,837/- surcharge to be levied in the month of September-19 bill. But due to technical issue in the calculation programme (short amount of Rs 1,12,959/- was levied in 09/19 bill) but and amount of Rs 3,38,878/- towards ACD surcharge levied for the period from 01.08.2019 to 31.08.2019.

ACD surcharge calculation for the month of September 19 is given below.

Rs 2,25,91,864X18%/100X1/12= Rs 3,38,878/- surcharge to be levied in the month of October-19 bill. ACD surcharge levied for the period from 01.09.2019 to 31.09.2019.

ACD surcharge calculation for the month of October 19 is given below.

Rs 1,50,61,242X18%/100X1/12= Rs 2,25,919/- surcharge to be levied in the month of November-19 bill. ACD surcharge levied for the period from 01.10.2019 to 31.10.2019.

A detailed study of the above given written submissions of the Appellant and the Respondents shows that the due dates followed by the Appellant considering the date of payment of installments do not have any statute to support and are based on his own calculations and on the number of days delayed for payment. Here the question arises is the surcharges are to be levied on the number of days delayed or shall be levied without any reference to the number of days delayed. The Tariff Order envisages the Respondents under HT Category to levy surcharges differently over levying delayed payment surcharges on the CC bill and in case of grant of installments, the relevant Clause 7.125 -

Additional charges for belated payment of charges - Tariff Order FY-2018-19 is reproduced hereunder

The Licensees shall charge the Delayed Payment Surcharge (DPS) per month on the bill amount at the rate of 5 paise/ Rs. 100/ day or Rs. 550 whichever is higher. In case of grant of installments, the Licensee shall levy interest at the rate of 18% per annum on the outstanding amounts, compounded annually and the two charges shall not be levied at the same time.

As per the above clause the delayed payment surcharges are based on number of days delayed @ 5 ps/ Rs 100/-/ day, such is not in case of grant of installments, which is more specifically prescribed in Clause 6(3)(b) of Regulation 6 of 2004 also, that if there is delay in payment of ACD, the consumer shall pay surcharge thereon at 18% Per Annum. In the absence of the specific remarks over charging the surcharges towards installments on number of days delayed, the surcharges shall be levied on the balance ACD amount @ 18% P.A. which fell due as on the date of generation of the monthly bill. The due dates scheduled in the order of CGM/Commercial is for disconnection of the service in case of default in payment of ACD amounts as per the schedule and not for levying surcharges.

7. There was a mistake over levy of period of ACD surcharges this can be ascertained from the Table-4 above, the ACD surcharge of Rs 6,77,756/- against the ACD due amount of Rs 4,51,83,730/ was levied in the month of July which is for the period 20.06.2019 to 20.07.2019, actually the said ACD surcharge is liable to be shown in the June month bill, as per the CGM/Commercial order of installments, the first installment is to be paid immediately as on 01.06.2019 and the payment was received on 29.06.2019, which shows that as on the date of generation of June month bill i.e. 26.06.2019 the total ACD amount was un paid and became due subsequently ACD surcharge amounts would have to be raised on the balance ACD amount @ 18% P.A. taking due as on the date of generation of the monthly bills. There was a mistake in calculation of surcharges towards balance ACD amount of Rs 3,01,22,486/- which was shown as Rs 3,38,878/- instead of Rs 4,51,837/- in the August billing month (Rs 3,01,22,486X18%/100X1/12= Rs.4,51,837/-) resulting in shortfall of ACD surcharge of Rs 1,12,959/-, the mistake was admitted by the Respondents vide Lr.No. 262 dt.09.06.2020. The same amount of Rs 1,12,959/- claimed during the month of December bill is actually shortfall amount of ACD surcharge of the August billing month i.e. Rs 4,51,837/- (ACD Surcharge to be levied) minus Rs 3,38,878/- (ACD Surcharge levied) and not the ACD surcharge amount for the period from 01.11.2019 to 30.11.2019 as claimed by the Respondents. On the whole the levy of total ACD surcharges of Rs 22,59,186/- is as per Clause 6(3)(b) Regulation 6 of 2004 i.e, 18% Per Annum towards delay in payment of the ACD amount payable as against the 6 Nos. installments given to the Appellant. The Appeal of the Appellant for withdrawal of ACD surcharge of Rs 6,42,167/- is not tenable and liable to be paid.

8. The Appellant contended that the Respondents did not resolved their complaint for withdrawal of Rs 6,42,167/- vide letter dt.11.12.2019 within 7 working days of receipt of the complaint as per Clause VII 7.1(i) and (ii) of Regulation 5 of 2016, hence the amount has to be withdrawn, but in the discussions above it is clearly found that the Appellant has to pay Rs 6,42,167/-, as such the said contentions of the Appellant is rejected.

Hence in the face of the above findings this issue is decided against the Appellant.
